GOOD ROADS BOOSTERS

Quite an enthusiastic crowd of Good Roads Boosters assembled at Burkeville on Monday, coming all the way from Lynchburg to Petersburg, Appomattox to Petersburg, and other points. The following gentlemen attended from Appomattox: L. E. Smith, W. H. Ligon, S. L. Ferguson, W. M. Hancock, O. A. Hancock, R. L. Burke, A. B. Thornhill, N. R. Featherston, Joel W. Flood, E. E. Chisum, L. N. Ligon, W. A. Swan, O. E. Peterson, Rev. Kelly Hobbs, W. T. Steen, G. E. Taylor, W. I. Johnson, S. H. Dickerson, J. H. McCue, W. R. Brightwell, Floyd Gilliam, J. R. Hamilton. We are confidently looking for some results soon from this splendid organization. The money is available and Commissioner Coleman is anxious to make a good showing in road building for the Old Dominion next year. He addressed the organization and asked them to be unanimous in their recommendations, and he would give his aid and co-operation. Let's quit talking about the need of good roads and devise ways and means for the early building of some roads.

Appomattox has organized under the new road law with L. E. Smith as chairman, and we are expecting some road improvement at an early date on the roads other than State roads. The responsibility is squarely upon the shoulders of the Supervisors and they will not escape a just and critical public if they neglect so important a duty.

Let the people set their hearts and minds on better roads, and Appomattox will not be ashamed to the intelligence of her citizenship and the progress of her county.

DELCO-LIGHT was designed and built by men who were raised in farm homes—who experienced the discomforts and inconveniences of farm life—and who set out deliberately years ago to develop an electric plant that would provide city advantages for rural communities. They were the same men whose engineering talent had made DELCO-Stearns, Lighting and Ignition Equipment for automobiles the standard of the world— They knew electricity—and they knew the needs and limitations of farm life— They knew that an electric plant to give service in a farm home must be simple, so that it would not get out of order and require complicated repairs— It must be easily operated and require little attention— It must be very economical in operation— It must be built to stand hard usage and it must last indefinitely—
